Department of Defense
2023 Software Innovation Team Award
Nomination Instructions

Background: The Software Innovation Team Award was established in 2019 to recognize teams who are driving speed, innovation, and the use of best practices in software development and software acquisition. Across DoD, new software teams are standing up to deliver frequent and high-quality software capabilities into the hands of Warfighters – supporting the National Defense Strategy is imperative to increase readiness and lethality.

U.S. national security increasingly relies on software to execute missions, integrate, and collaborate with allies, and manage the defense enterprise. The ability to develop, procure, assure, deploy, and continuously improve software is central to our national defense. The threats facing the United States are evolving at an increasing pace, and the ability for the Department of Defense to adapt and respond is determined by its capability to rapidly develop and deploy innovative software technologies to the Warfighter.

The inaugural winner of this award was the Air Force Kessel Run (KR) team. KR was recognized as a model for Defense DevSecOps and Agile software acquisition. The KR Team rapidly fielded eighteen software capabilities, including an aircraft tanker-planning tool, using agile software development and lean start-up methodologies. KR also helped modernize the F-35 Autonomous Logistics Information System. The 2023 award provides leadership another great opportunity to recognize the innovative efforts of Services and Agencies that swiftly innovate with urgency, to deliver and deploy solutions for DoD's new generation of software capability.

Eligibility: All DoD organizations and teams are eligible to be nominated for the 2023 Software Innovation Team Award, except for the Office of the Secretary of Defense (OSD) staff organizations. Contractors and contractor employees are not eligible for this award. The award period is July 1, 2022, through June 30, 2023. Achievements resulting from efforts starting before July 1, 2022 may be included, but the culmination of the achievement must be within the award period.

Evaluation: Nominations will be evaluated as follows:

- 1) Specific achievements and/or innovations (50 points). Describe your organization's exemplary accomplishments driven by innovation, using software development and acquisition best practices, with speed, to deliver frequent and high-quality solutions to the Warfighter.
- 2) Value of the contribution (30 points). Describe the positive impacts and value for the Warfighter.
- 3) Demonstration of leadership initiative (20 points). Describe examples of leadership initiative, for example (not inclusive): creating improved organic software talent; creating software development units who develop and deploy with speed and reduced cycle time, software to the field using DevSecOps practices; and strengthening program office software development and acquisition capabilities.

Selection: The Director of the Defense Acquisition University (DAU)/Office of Human Capital Initiatives (HCI) of OUSD(A&S) will forward nominations to the Software Workforce Innovation Team Award Selection Board. HCI will provide the board recommended winner to the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment (USD(A&S)) for review and approval.
